

Information, Communications and Technology Workshops

The Eastern Region Infrastructure Network (ERIN) through its Big Lottery funded project FERI (Front Line Engagement through Infrastructure) are offering rural voluntary and community groups FREE training workshops on ICT.

Each of the workshops on offer is designed to enable and empower VCS community groups in the eastern region to make better use of ICT and improve efficiency and the ability to engage with service users, funders and stakeholders, volunteers, etc., more effectively.

The workshops;

WEBSITES

The website workshop explores how to ensure your current or new website has web presence, makes the right impression and portrays the correct image to your clients. The workshop is designed to give you the guidance, tips and sign posting on how to set a clear plan for your website.

CLOUD CONTROL – Cloud Computing

In the future all the information and applications we use will be accessed through the internet on any device, from anywhere, thanks to Cloud Computing. But what exactly is The Cloud and how can it make us more effective and efficient. This workshop looks at the basics of what it is and some of the applications available and how they can benefit VCO's.

Each of the workshops have limited places so please book early to avoid disappointment.

Duration:

Each workshop will be a session of approximately 2 to 3 hours approximately
